

The Lowdown in Lobsterville

VOLUME SEVEN

SECOND MAY 2005

VICTORIA DAY

To all our friends and relatives in Halifax (and other places in Canada) --- we wish you a safe and happy holiday. As you celebrate, remember to beware of those pretty wooden boxes out in the bay – you know, the ones with snacks hanging in them enticing you – or it may be the last holiday that you have.

MEMORIAL DAY

As Memorial Day approaches, we remember all those who have left us. This is one occasion that we in Lobsterville do not poke fun at. Our thoughts and prayers are with those whom we have lost over the years.

POLITICS TODAY

Today's issue features those in our community who are running for the important job of librarian. The candidates are Lucy Lobster and Lisette Lobster. Lucy moved to Lobsterville about ten years ago. Since then she has been active in various social activities. Those of you who play bingo down at the Crustacean Palace have probably seen her. She works the 4-C booth on Wednesdays. Lisette is a newcomer to town, having migrated here from France only a year and a half ago. There is the possibility that her French heritage may adversely effect her chances of winning the election. Knowing how important the job of librarian is, are the locals ready to trust this job to a relative stranger from Europe? After all, the job of censoring the content of books and web sites is solely the responsibility of the Librarian. Will Lisette be viewed as too liberal? We will be watching this race closely.

Keep watching for the profiles on future candidates.

CLAWS AND TAILS

The Mothers' Day BBQ was well attended and it was obvious that Lobster d'Fleur's time spent at the Atlantic Coast School of Culinary Delights was definitely time well spent. However, it was obvious that another course was necessary. So, on Monday evening (May 23rd), there will be an etiquette course at the Crustacean Parlor. All are encouraged to attend and there are some of you who will be receiving personal invitations. Don't be embarrassed by being asked to leave future dining events – brush up or learn basic etiquette at this free course.

The number of crank calls has been down lately but by no means are these characters gone. The calls continue and so does the investigation. No further official news is available at this time but the rumor mill has it that the calls have been narrowed down to a dark, seedy alley in Washington, D.C. Continue to watch The Lowdown for further information.

Congratulations to Star Lobster – she won $250 at last weeks bingo games down at the Crustacean Parlor.
