

The Lowdown in Lobsterville

VOLULME EIGHT

SECOND JUNE 2005

FATHER'S DAY

On this special day set aside for father's everywhere, we here at The Lowdown would like to take the opportunity to wish our fathers a Happy Father's Day and, since we do not exactly know who our fathers are, we wish everyone of you male lobster's in Lobsterville a very special day.

CANADIANS TO VISIT

The Canadians are coming. It is our turn to host our friends and relatives from Halifax. They are coming to visit us over the Canada Day holiday, which is July 1st for those of you in Lobsterville that are not up on Canadian holidays (shame on you). Help us prepare for a good time. We will be having a planning meeting on Monday, June 13th at 7:00 p.m. at the Crustacean Palace. See you there.

POLITICS TODAY

Today's issue features two very special candidates - Fast Frieda and Party Pete. As concerned as we are over who our librarian will be due to the responsibility that job carries, we are equally concerned as to who gets elected for this important position - that position being the important job of Party Planner, and no, we do not mean political parties or tupperware parties, we mean party parties. As most of our readers have figured out by now, we living here in Lobsterville love to party. If the truth be known, we do not even need a very good reason to party. We have been know to celebrate the 3rd of June - after all, it only comes once a year and that reason, in and of itself, is reason to party. So let's meet the candidates. Fast Frieda has been a regular on the party scene for some time. She has also been in trouble for some of the happenings at her parties. Without going into specifics, let's just say the parties were a bit too wild even for the liberal lobsters here in Lobsterville. How will that affect her chances in this election? As for Party Pete, we here are at The Lowdown have not been able to dig up any dirt on him. A lobster without a checkered past - can it be? We will really be watching this campaign and the outcome of this race.

CLAWS AND TAILS

Sign up now for summer surfing classes. All of us lobsters know how to ride the currents in this ocean that we call home - but how many of us know how to ride the waves. Johnny Big Claw has consented to share his secrets to riding the big ones for fun and success. The classes will start on July 10th and run for three consecutive Sundays thereafter. The classes will be after the beach volley ball games so you won't have to decide between activities.

There will be a Father's Day BBQ at Lobster Sands on Father's Day at 4:00 p.m. Come early and enjoy the Sandcastle Contest and stories from the old timers among us. A good time will be had by all.
