

The Lowdown in Lobsterville

VOLULME NINE

SECOND JUNE 2005

FIRST DAY OF SUMMER

Check it out, Tuesday, June 21st is the first day of summer. To welcome the summer season, there will be free lemonade in the lobby of The Lowdown from noon to closing (which is whenever we get bored and close the doors). Mosey on down and enjoy some lemonade and say "hi" to your friends here at the newspaper.

THE CANADIANS ARE COMING

Our planning session for this visit from our friends and relatives from north of the border was very successful. Plans have been made for a beach BBQ down at Lobster Sands and the local Lobster Scout Troop 69 will have fun contests for all – like the sack race and the 50-yard swim. We will be importing the "spirits" from Louisiana from our distant crayfish cousins so you know that we will all have a good time. The fun starts on Canada Day (July 1st for you uninformed crustaceans) on the beach at 10:00 a.m. sharp. See you there.

CRANK CALLS UPDATE

The investigation into the crank calls that are once again flooding Lobsterville has taken a new turn. The calls have taken on a threatening nature, promising dire consequences if mayor candidate Linus Lobster is not elected. Unnamed, reliable sources have told The Lowdown that the caller(s) have gone so far as to threaten local citizens if they do not vote for Linus. Could the mayor candidate himself be the instigator of this campaign of terror? We here at The Lowdown posed that very question to him and his response was, and we quote, "I do not need to resort to those kind of tactics to win this race". A good political answer – neither admitting nor denying anything. We shall keep digging deeper into this matter and keep you informed.

The Fourth of July

Briefly, we are planning a special issue of The Lowdown for the Fourth of July. However, it will be a historical look at Lobsterville and the Lobster Revolution, not a schedule of events. For those of you who like to plan early, there is a complete list of activities planned listed at City Hall to help you to plan your day. We will just remind you that the parade starts at the High School at 11:00 a.m. Come and meet your friends and watch the parade then just follow the crowd. And yes, the grand finale will be the BBQ and fireworks over Lobster Sands. Watch for more information regarding events in our next regular issue of The Lowdown.

CLAWS AND TAILS

Congratulations to Lobster d'Fleur for winning the Father's Day Sandcastle contest. The sad part was that we had barely finished the judging when the incoming tide washed all the works of art away before any pictures could be taken. Who read the stupid tide tables, anyway? We shall be looking into this blunder and report our findings in a future issue.

Wednesday, June 22nd is Readers Appreciation Day. We here at The Lowdown would like to thank our small, loyal following and can think of no better way to do that than to be closed that day. Maybe then more readers will appreciate us.

BEACH VOLLEY BALL

Team	Wins	Losses	Total Points
The Xsters	6	2	12
The Skippers	6	2	12
The Klaws	6	2	12
The Hopefuls	4	4	8
The Oddsters	1	7	2
The Good Guys	1	7	2

Sunday, June 12th, 2005

The Good Guys (21) v. The Oddsters (17)
The Skippers (21) v. The Xsters (18)
The Klaws (21) v. The Hopefuls (19)

Sunday, June 19th, 2005

The Xsters (21) v. The Hopefuls (18)
The Klaws (21) v. The Oddsters (12)
The Skippers (21) v. The Good Guys (11)

Sunday, June 26th, 2005

The Hopefuls v. The Klaws
The Skippers v. The Oddsters
The Xsters v. The Good Guys

Sunday, July 3rd, 2005

The Skippers v. The Hopefuls
The Good Guys v. The Klaws
The Xsters v. The Oddsters

Remember, the season ends on July 31st. Get ready for playoff action.

ENJOY YOUR SUMMER